Subject: English Language Training for Georgian Media 2018

Dear Sir or Madam,

As an experienced journalist, working past several years as a journalist and project creative manager at one of the most favorite Georgian business journal Marketer.ge, I have honor to work around the fields like marketing, management, advertising, business, creativity. Within the frames of my competence I often attend international conferences, seminars, trainings where I collect the best information, interview interesting people to bring useful content to the reader.

The main reason why I am so extremely interested in English course you provide is that, in spite of my own effort which I made to learn English well, I had poor resources (one of them is financial) to learn from professionals and to be certain in knowledge and communication and writing skills of myself, also to extend professional network and grow in the field.

Considering all this, I presume, it is obvious why I want to seize the day and take this golden opportunity, which can lead me to further challenges.

Faithfully,

Tamar Meparishvili
